OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA, situated in the centre of the State, on the North Canadian river, and on the through lines of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, St. Louis and San Francisco, and Missouri, Kansas and Texas R. R. systems. Interurban trolley line now built to Moore (9 miles), Edmond (15 miles) and El Reno (36 miles). 546 miles S.W. of St. Louis, 350 miles S.W. of Kansas City. Is a great distributing point for heavy hardware and groceries, and third in the United States for agricultural implements. The state of Oklahoma produces yearly enormous crops of corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa, milo-maize, kafir corn and cotton, to the value of nearly 300 millions of dollars. It is also a great live stock market and packing house centre. Population of the city, 64,205(1910). Here is a Chamber of Commerce, W. B. Moore, secretary & manager.

ORANGE, TEXAS. Situated on the Sabine river, 21 miles from Port Arthur, 106 miles E. of Houston and 256 miles W. of New Orleans. Population 5,527 (1910). The chief products are lumber, corn, cane, vegetables and rice. The combined daily capacity of the three saw mills is 1,000 000 feet. The annual tonnage of Orange, inbound and outbound, exceeds 350,000 tons. Has the only paper mill in the world manufacturing wrapping paper from long leaf yellow pine refuse. Two ship yards are located here. A 26-foot deep water channel has been completed by the U.S. Government, connecting the Sabine river with the Gulf of Mexico, giving Orange deep water to the open sea. Three new railroads are building into Orange and the terminals will cover 1,600 acres of land. The Sabine Kennels are located here.

Orange has a Commercial Club (F. H. Farwell, president; E. W. Anderson, secretary).

PENSACOLA (FLORIDA), on the Gulf of Mexico. This is the port from which the great staple of Florida, pitch pine, is exported, a large portion of which goes to Great Britain. Here is a large fishing industry and an establishment for the manufacture of fertilisers. Population (1910), 22,982. Pensacola is also a naval and military station. At the entrance to the harbour are forts Pickens, Barrancas and McRee. It has excellent wharfage and shipping facilities, with 33 feet of water at the harbour's entrance, and 28 feet at the wharfs of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

Railroads: Louisville and Nashville; Gulf, Florida and Alabama; Pensacola and Perdido; Pensacola Electric Terminal.

The principal exports are pitch-pine lumber, sawn pitch-pine timber, hewn pitch-pine timber, cotton, tobacco, coal, pig iron, phosphate rock, turpentine, cottonseed meal, oak staves, corn, wheat, flour and rosin. Iron ore is imported from Spain, kainit, cement &c. from Germany. The total exports during 1912 were valued at £4,722,066, and the imports were valued at £448,440.

Here is a Commercial Association (L. J. Henderson, secretary).

Lloyd's Agent, C. W. Oliver.

PITTSBURGH, PA. (including PITTSBURGH NORTH SIDE) (late ALLEGHENY). Population (1910), 533,905. A large export trade is enjoyed by the manufacturers in the finished products from iron, steel and glass, but owing to heavy local demands it has notably decreased in the iron and steel trades. The manufacture of tinplate has grown to no mean proportions, and this city is now the largest producer in the country. The total iron and steel production in the Pittsburgh district for 1911 was as follows(in tons):—pig iron, 5,116,442; Bessemer steel, 1,442,286; open-hearth steel, 4,980,426; all other steel, 28,661—total production steel, 6,451,373; rails, 427,140; structural shapes, 717,879; plates and sheets, 1,113,794; other rolled products, 2,245,399—production of all rolled products, 4,504,152. The city is situated midway between New York and Chicago, on the main line of the P. R. R. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (Keenan building).

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH. (JEFFERSON CO.). Population (1910), 4,181. The U.S. quarantine offices are located here, and all vessels from foreign ports call for inspection. The nearest town of any size is Seattle, which is 36 miles distant by water. The district around contains an abundance of fir timber and there are numerous mills engaged in cutting the timber, which forms the chief export. Principal imports consist of tinplate, pig iron, liquors, oilcloth, chinaware, silk and matting, copper ores and coal, cement, jute bags and rice and tea. Principal articles of export consist of flour and wheat, lumber, oats, also raw cotton.

PORTLAND, MAINE, has a capacious harbour, easy of access at all seasons, with 30ft. depth of channel at low tide, and outer harbour will accommodate the largest ships. Situated as it is at the eastern extremity of the shortest railroad route, and about 12 hours nearer Europe than any other Atlantic port, it would seem that the city possessed all the advantages requisite to make it the pioneer distributing port for the west. The population of the city was 58,571 (1910 census). Here is a Board of Trade.

PORTLAND (OREGON), in MULTNOMAH COUNTY, the commercial centre of the North-west, has a population of 207,214 (1910). It is the terminus of five Trans-Continental railroads, whilst three other railroads have decided to continue their lines to Portland. It is an important lumber and grain port is the only fresh water port on the North Pacific coast at the head of deep sea navigation and the port for the Columbia River and Willamette River valleys, which produce large quantities of food products. Its tributary country embraces an area of 250,000 square miles, with a population of upwards of 1,000,000. The fresh water harbour on which Portland is situated is 110 miles inland, but a deep channel to the Columbia River Bar allows vessels drawing 27 feet to safely moor at Portland's docks, thence going to the Orient and Europe with big cargoes.

Here are many manufacturing concerns and the city is important as a wholesale distributing centre. The bank clearings in 1912 amounted to $597,087,865.12 and the bank deposits are about $72,000 000.

Principal articles of import are coal, cement, pig iron, tin, raw and waste silk, jute bags, hemp, sulphur, rice, tea and china. The total imports for 1912 were valued at $2,863,693.

The principal articles of export are wheat and flour, and the total foreign exports for the year 1912 were valued at $10,991,012.

ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI, BUCHANAN COUNTY, 48 miles N. by W. of Kansas City. Population, 77,403 (1910). Is situated on the east bank of the Missouri River, right in the heart of one of the best agricultural districts in the west. It is largely given to jobbing and manufacturing business. It is one of the foremost markets for live stock and packing houses in the west. Is rapidly on the increase, and bids fair to more than double its population within the next 10 years. Here is a Commerce Club (H. G. Krake, general sec.; E. H. Clifford, civic sec.), which is ready at all times to give information to any one asking for it.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS (BEXAR CO.). Population, 96,614 (1910). This city was settled in 1689 and is the largest in the State; is the distributing point for the south-west of Texas. The commerce is that appertaining to the requirements of the people and their agricultural products. Many firms have agents here who buy direct from the farmers and ship away large quantities of wheat, cotton, maize, wool, hides and live stock. Considerable trade is also done with Mexico. It is the terminal of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas R. R., and is situated on the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio, the Southern Pacific, the International and Great Northern R. Rs., and on the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass. San Antonio is a fine winter resort, over 20,000 people wintering here each year, exclusive of the regular population. There are hot sulphur wells of high medicinal grade. Here is the International Club of S. A. (A. W. Hartman, sec.) and a Chamber of Commerce.

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA; population (1910), 39,578, and is rapidly increasing. The city is beautifully situated on the harbour of San Diego, and is the first port of call from the Panama Canal. Area of harbour, 22 square miles; depth of bar at low tide, 25 feet; minimum low tide depth first seven miles of channel waters, 35 feet; next six miles, 20 to 35 feet; channel, 1,500 to 2,400 feet in width; depths are natural and have never been dredged. The State Legislature (1911) ceded its harbour rights to the City of San Diego; $1,000,000 have been voted and contracts let for the construction of the first unit of municipal docks. Buildings of the value of $16,000,000 have been erected since 1910, and they are increasing at a rate per head of the population greater than that of any other American city. The principal exports are cereals, citrus fruits, grapes and iron and steel goods; while the chief imports consist of coal and cement.

San Diego has a Chamber of Commerce. Wm. Tomkins, sec., will, upon application, send printed information free of cost concerning the city and surrounding country.

San Diego will hold an International Exposition in 1915, which, it is estimated, will cost about $10,000,000.

Lloyd's Sub-Agent, J. G. Burne.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA.—This bay, open at all seasons, is one of the best protected harbours of the western hemisphere, and one of the three largest in the world, being completely landlocked, with an entrance at the Golden Gate about one mile in width, and a water area of about 450 square miles. There is an ample depth of water to accommodate vessels drawing upwards of 30 feet. There are six dry docks and three floating docks. One dry dock is 750ft long by 82 feet in width, capable of docking vessels of the largest class, and another is now being constructed 1080 feet in length.

The population of the city in 1910 was 416,912. The state is agricultural, large quantities of wheat and barley being produced.

Total output of petroleum oil in California is also very large.

It is an enormous fruit producing district; the leading varieties are oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and raisins. Wine is also produced in abundance.

Commercial Organizations.—San Francisco Chamber of Commerce (George C. Boardman, Merchants' Exchange, secretary); Board of Trade of San Francisco (sec. H. L. Smith, 444 Market st.); California Development Board (Robert Newton Lynch, manager; The Associated Chamber of Commerce of the Pacific Coast (Chester W. Burks, sec. Mills building); Italian Chamber of Commerce (sec. Rag. Gioachino Unti, 604 Montgomery street).

Total value of exports in 1912 was $40,624,903 and the total value of imports was $53,885,021.

There entered the harbour of San Francisco, in 1912, 2,558 vessels of 1,658,596 tons (foreign trade only).

Lloyd's Agents, Catton, Bell & Co. 454 California street.

[The word "street" should be added to the addresses in print where not otherwise mentioned.]

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA. County seat of Chatham County. 110 miles S.S.E. of Augusta.—This seaport (with 28 ft. at high water) is situated about 18 miles from the mouth of the Savannah river, and is the port of shipment for cotton for the States of Georgia, Arkansas, Missouri, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and part of Tennessee. It is the second port in the U. States for the export of cotton. The population is 65,064 (1910 census). The principal manufacturing and other industries are fertilizer works, cotton seed oil works, several machine shops, sash, door and blind factories, broom factories, crate and box factories, soap factories, rosin oil works, marine railways, car wheels, cigars &c. The principal exports are cotton (in 1912, 1,426,608 bales, valued at $71,580,056), cotton seed, phosphate rock, resin (in 1912, 643,103 barrels, valued at $4,321,816), turpentine (in 1912, 7,162,287 gallons, valued at $3,209,278), lumber, staves. It is the chief primary market of the world in naval stores, and handles nearly a million packages annually. Total value of exports in 1912 was $85,450,385. The principal imports are muriate of potash, fertilizers, brimstone, pyrites, nitrate of soda. Total value of imports in 1912 was $3,980,064. Here is the Savannah Chamber of Commerce (J. F. Gray, vice-president & chairman of Executive Committee); also a Board of Trade (Thos. Purse, sec. and supt.), and a Cotton Exchange (J. J. Gaudry, sec. and supt.).

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON(KING Co.)—population, 237,194 (1910)—is important as an industrial and commercial city and as a port. It is situated on the east side of Puget Sound, 125 miles from the Pacific Ocean. It is the terminus of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line to the Orient, of the Great Northern Steamship Co. and other trans-Pacific lines, and several steamship lines to Alaska and Pacific coast points. It is also the terminus of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound, and Oregon & Washington (Union Pacific) Railroads,and is reached by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Canadian Pacific. For the year 1912 foreign exports were valued at $21,204,568, and the imports from foreign countries at $25,665,947. In addition a large export and import trade is carried on with Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines. The principal exports are coal, wheat, fish, flour, cotton, timber, iron goods &c. while the principal imports are silk, rice, matting, drugs, chemicals &c. It is the headquarters of the lumber, flour and fish trade of the north-west of U.S.A. and of Alaska. 1,913 vessels, of 7,100,650 net tonnage, entered the port in 1912. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (C. B. Yandell, sec.).

TACOMA. WASHINGTON (PIERCE COUNTY), at the head of ocean navigation on Puget Sound, is the principal Pacific coast terminus of Northern Pacific, Oregon, Washington R.R. and Nav.Co.(Union and Southern Pacific), Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Great Northern Railways. Exports large quantities of wheat, flour, lumber, coal, smelter and other raw materials and manufactured products. The harbour has now 14 miles of water frontage, which will be largely increased in the near future, and is accessible at all times to vessels of over 35 feet draft. Steamship lines connect Tacoma commercially with the U. K., Germany, France, Italy, Egypt, S. Africa, Japan, China, Siberia, Australasia, S. America, Mexico, Alaska and other ports of the U. S. The output of lumber in 1912 was 312,000,000 feet. The value of the output of its flour and cereal mills in 1912 was $11,351,000. The total imports during 1912 were valued at $30,623,342, and the exports in 1912 were valued at $37,467,47[illegible]. Among other industries are planing mills, boxes, woodenware, furniture, car and locomotive factories and repair shops, ship building, fish packing and preserving, fruit canning, breweries, cereal plants, car wheels, marine, logging and stationary engines, reduction of ores of gold, silver, lead and copper, and copper refining, slaughtering and meat packing, tanning, boots and shoes, oil skins, sails and ship supplies, wagons, carriages, buggy tops, wooden staves, water pipes, paints, caskets and burial cases, soap, baking powder, spices, pickles &c. &c. Population (1910), 83,743.

Lloyd's Agent, C.E. Lucian Agassiz.

WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA. Pop. 25,748 (1910). This port was for nearly a century and until a few years ago the principal market for spirits, turpentine, and rosin, and is still for tar, crude turpentine, and pitch. The Compress and Warehouse Companies afford superior facilities for loading cotton ships. The principal articles of export are cotton (1912, 465,099 bales, valued at $27,077,000), spirit of turpentine, rosin, tar, crude turpentine and lumber; total value, 1912, $27,290,968. The principal articles of import are earthenware, salt, guano and phosphate, kainit, molasses &c.; total value, 1912, $2,789,283. The harbour is commodious, with a depth of 22 feet, with 19 feet always safe, and 21 feet not unusual on a good tide up river.

FARM IMPLEMENTS OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY BEAR THE INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER TRADE-MARK

International Harvester farm implements and machines, the most reliable and efficient in the world, have been developed to their high standard through ceaseless effort by tests and experiments made under every known condition of soil, crop, and climate in every civilized country where the soil is tilled. Every machine in the International Harvester line can be depended upon to do its work well and at a profit to the farmer. For this reason, if for no other, dealers in agricultural implements and machines will find the International Harvester line a profitable line to handle.

The full line includes—

Harvesting and Haying Machines—Champion, Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Osborne and Plano binders, header binders, reapers, and mowers.

Tillage Implements—Disk harrows, cultivators, and grain drills.

Hay Machines—Loaders, rakes, stackers, tedders, mowers, horse-power presses, motor presses.

Oil Tractors—In approved styles. In 6-12, 7-15, 10-20, 12-25, 15-30, 30-50 and 30-60 H.P. sizes.

Oil and Gas Engines—Horizontal and vertical, air cooled or water cooled, in 1 to 60 H.P. sizes, built to operate on kerosene, gasoline, gas, naphtha, distillate, or alcohol.

Cream Separators—Lily, Bluebell and Dairymaid, in 350 to 850 lbs. per hour capacity.

Manure Spreaders—Low Lift, Low Spread, Steel Corn King, Steel Clover Leaf. Designed for long life and hard work.

Wagons—Farm trucks to suit all conditions.

Binder Twine—Sisal, Standard, Manila, Pure Manila, uniform quality.

International Motor Trucks—Low priced, medium weight trucks of sterling quality built for quick deliveries and light hauling.

Catalogues describing machines built to meet farming conditions in every part of the world are mailed on request. Address in your own language

A Complete Export Shipping Guide.

Tenth Year. 1914 Edition.

The EXPORTERS' ENCYCLOPÆDIA, issued annually, is the recognized standard authority among export shippers throughout the United States and Canada. It is the only complete export shipping guide published and it is kept up-to-date and accurate by monthly "Corrections" and additions. It answers every question that comes up in making an export shipment. Send for descriptive booklet.

PRICE $7.50 a Year, including the

EXPORTERS' REVIEW.

The EXPORTERS' REVIEW (52-60 pages) is issued monthly. In addition to valuable news and information, it contains the "Corrections" and additions for the "Encyclopædia," without which that work would be of little value—the "Review" is, therefore, indispensable to all subscribers.

The Exporters' Review reaches the following classes :—

The Export Commission Houses of the United States; active importers in foreign countries; American and Foreign Consuls; high-class Government offices throughout the world; the best class of manufacturers throughout the United States and Canada (those who do an export business); steamship companies engaged in foreign trade; export forwarding concerns, custom house brokers, railroad companies, banks, marine insurance companies, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, etc.

If you are interested in reaching any, or all, of the above classes, send for our advertising rates and a sample copy of the EXPORTERS' REVIEW.

ESTABLISHED IN 1802.

DU PONT

EXPERIENCE OF 111 YEARS.

EXPLOSIVES, BLASTING SUPPLIES

MILITARY AND SPORTING POWDERS

AND FABRIKOID LEATHER

THE products of the Du Pont Company represent the highest degree of skill in selecting materials and manufacturing ability. The trade mark DU PONT stands for quality and efficiency. Be sure to specify "Du Pont" when purchasing explosives.

DU PONT

HIGH EXPLOSIVES

WE make an extensive variety of Dynamites, and are able to provide one or more grades best adapted to local blasting conditions. Our long experience, ample facilities and conveniently located distributing depôts insure superior goods and prompt shipments.

GELIGNITE AND GELATIN. Recommended for wet work and where a dense, plastic explosive is desirable. Their plasticity permits close packing in bore holes and increases their effectiveness.

BLASTING GELATIN. The strongest explosive known. Well adapted to submarine work, and where exceptionally hard rock is encountered.

DU PONT brands are suited to export trade. Special care is given to their composition to maintain stability.

DU PONT

EXPLOSIVES for FARMING

FARMING with Du Pont Dynamite is now practised extensively. Better farms and bigger crops follow its proper use. For land clearing, drainage channels, tree planting, subsoiling and terracing, Du Pont explosives are economic substitutes for expensive labor and machinery.

FREE BOOKLETS

DESCRIPTIVE of Du Pont Explosives are published in English, Spanish and Portuguese. These contain valuable and authentic data covering the selection, storage and usage of Explosives for industrial and agricultural purposes. Tell us what you wish to do with explosives and let us aid you to get best results at a minimum cost.

DU PONT

BLASTING POWDER

THIS is one of the first products of the Du Pont Company. During the past century it has always been conspicuous for its uniform quality. It is made in various sizes of grains, thereby enabling blasters to load the bore hole with powder most suitable for the work in hand. Blasting Powder is packed in steel kegs of 25 lbs. capacity.

BLASTING SUPPLIES

THE following are the Blasting Supplies we can recommend to users of Du Pont Explosives because long and satisfactory usage has demonstrated their superiority: Blasting Machines, Blasting Caps, Electric Blasting Caps, Fuse, Cap Crimpers, Leading Wire and Reels, Connecting Wire, Electric Squibs, Galvanometers, Rheostats, Thawing Kettles, Blasting Mats and Tamping Bags. Full information about each article is in "Blasting Supplies" Catalog. Ask for it.

DU PONT MILITARY AND SPORTING RIFLE POWDERS

Army and Navy Powders and Explosives.

DU PONT SPORTING POWDERS

"COES" Genuine Screw Wrenches

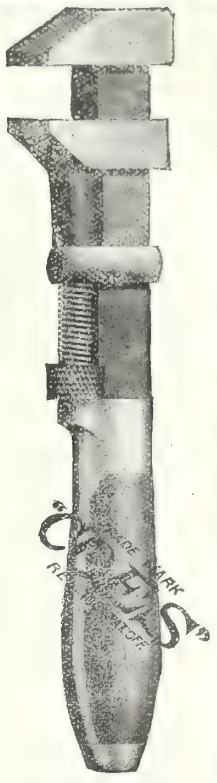
The Oldest and Best

Manufactured for 70 Years

Strongest, Largest Line of Sizes

THOROUGHLY HARDENED

Styles Made Especially for Heavy Duty in the Tropics



"Coes" Wrenches are made in five styles and 50 sizes from 4 to 72 inches long. The "Coes" Knife (wood) Handle, for factory and household use, is the original of all screw adjustment wrenches. The Steel Handle, an all metal wrench, resists heat, acids, moisture and wood boring insects. It is the standard for outdoor work. We supply either model in Introductory Assortment Cases of 5⅓ dozen in 7 sizes from 6 to 21 inches. The Key Model is an extra big wrench for large work. Size, 28 inches to 6 feet over all.

If you have never sold a "Coes," order an Introductory Assortment. It supplies sufficient wrenches to thoroughly test their selling qualities. Catalogues in English or Spanish, prices, etc., mailed free on request.

Llaves de Tornillo "COES" Genuine

Las más antiguas y las mejores. Fabricadas hace 70 años. Las más fuertes.

La línea más extensa en tamaños. Completamente endurecidas.

Estilos hechos especialmente para trabajo recio en los trópicos.

Las llaves "Coes" se hacen de cinco estilos y 50 tamaños desde 4 hasta 72 pulgadas de largo. La llave "Coes" de mango de cuchillo (de madera), para el uso en las fábricas y doméstico, es la llave original entre todas las llaves de ajuste de tornillo. La llave de mango de acero, una llave toda de metal, resiste la acción de los ácidos, humedad é insectos roedores de madera. Es la corriente para trabajos á la intemperie. Suministramos cualquiera de los dos modelos en Estuches con surtidos de introducción de 5⅓ docena en 7 tamaños desde 6 hasta 21 pulgadas. El modelo de chabeta es una llave extra grande para trabajos grandes. Tamaño 28 pulgadas á 6 pies en total.

Si Ud. nunca ha vendido una llave "Coes," ordene un Surtido de introducción. Este surtido proporciona llaves suficientes para probar completamente sus cualidades de venta. A solicitud enviamos catálogos en inglés ó español, precios, etc.

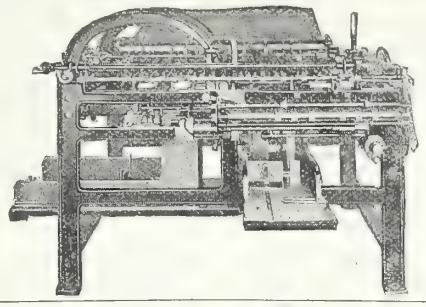
FOLDERS: Folding Machines for all kinds of Paper Folding — Books, Magazines, Newspapers, Catalogues, Pamphlets, &c.

We make 59 different machines for folding paper, 18 distinct types—or we will make one for your needs.



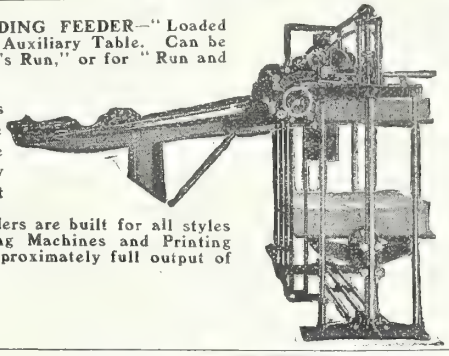
MAQUINAS PLEGADORAS para plegar papel en cualquier forma; libros, revistas, periódicos, catálogos, folletos, etc.

Construimos 59 máquinas diferentes para plegar papel, 18 tipos distintos—o haremos una que llene vuestras necesidades.

DEXTER RELOADING FEEDER—"Loaded while Feeding" from Auxiliary Table. Can be Loaded for "Full Day's Run," or for "Run and Turn" Work.

CROSS Continuous Feeder — Feeds while you Load. Positive Separation—Simplicity and Ease of Adjustment

Both types of Feeders are built for all styles and makes of Folding Machines and Printing Presses. Will give approximately full output of press.



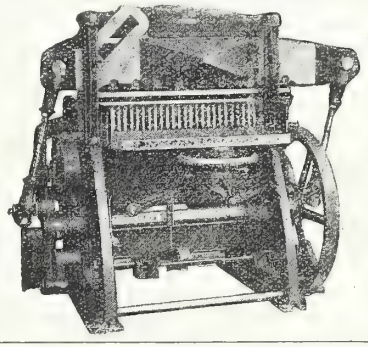
Alimentador automático DEXTER que toma el papel de una mesa auxilar mientras alimenta la máquina; puede cargarse para la tirada de un dia completo o para tira y retira.

El alimentador transversal continuo alimenta la máquina al mismo tiempo que toma el papel. Positiva separación; sencillez y facilidad de ajuste.

Ambos tipos de alimentadores se construyen para máquinas de plegar y de imprimir de todos estilos y sistemas. Dan aproximadamente abasto a la producción máxima de las máquinas.

CUTTERS: We make the simplest, most powerful and accurate automatic cutters. They cut paper, cardboard, cloth, tin-foil, fibre, quickly and smoothly.

Hand Clamping Cutters for all small work.

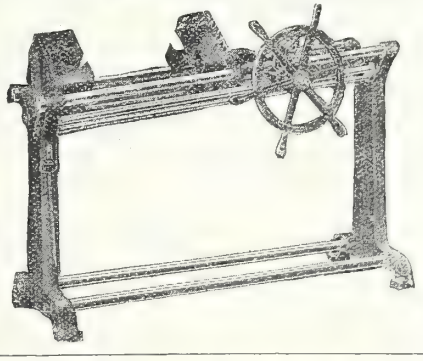


GUILLOTINAS: construimos las máquinas automáticas más sencillas, poderosas y exactas para cortar papel, cartón, telas, hoja de estaño y fibras con rapidez y perfección.

Prensas con cuchilla para hacer a mano trabajos de poca importancia.

BUNDLING PRESSES for compressing and tieing folded signatures into bundles, after having been folded by hand or machine.

Two styles, operated by hand or power. They save two-thirds of the floor space that would be used if forms were not tied.



PRENSAS PARA EMPACAR: para comprimir y atar signaturas plegadas, formando paquetes, después de haber sido plegadas a mano o a máquina.

Dos estilos: movidas a brazo o pur fuerza mecánica. Economizan dos terceras partes del espacio que se necesitaria en el suelo si el papel no estuviese prensado y atado.

INGERSOLL-RAND COMPANY

The World's Largest Manufacturers of PNEUMATIC MACHINERY

The natural outgrowth of the vast and extended experience of the Ingersoll-Rand Company in the Compressed Air field has been the establishment of "A BOND OF CONFIDENCE" between the user and itself, based on past and present successful performance of numberless installations of Ingersoll-Rand machinery in every quarter of the Globe.

The new buyer when placing his order with this Company can do so with the confidence that the design, the materials and the workmanship will be right whether it be a rock drill, an air compressor, a pneumatic tool, a sharpening machine or a pump; the three combined guaranteeing an efficiency—the value received—that no other builder can equal.
